THE DYING PREMIER.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD ALIVE BUT SINKING.

The Doctors have Absolutely No Hope that He Can Survive the Attack—The Dying Man Rested Easily To-day, and Took Nourishment Several Times.

OTTAWA, June 2, Earnscliffe, 9 a.m.—No alteration in Sir John's condition. He passed a very comfortable night and if anything is easier. Doctors issue a consultation bulletin about 11 a.m.

10 A.M.—Sir John's condition is much the same. He has taken considerable nourishment.

EARNSCLIFFE, June 1, 10:45 p.m.—The Premier passed the day marked by periods of more than usual depression. He has taken a small amount of nourishment. Consciousness remains much the same as during the last two days. He suffers no pain. There is every prospect of his passing through the night.

EARNSCLIFFE, June 2, 1 a.m.—No material change in Sir John's condition. He is slowly sinking.

We found Sir John Macdonald resting quietly at the time of our visit, having recently partaken of light refreshment. The past night has been satisfactory, as expressed in the 6 a.m. bulletin. While we are gratified to find such an exhibit of vital strength as we see exemplified in him, yet we cannot alter our opinion as to the final result of his illness. (Signed) R. W. Powell, J. A. Grant, Henry P. Wright, M.D.s.

OTTAWA, 2 p.m.—Sir John is the same; no change; quite conscious.

3 p.m.—Sir John is in much the same condition; has taken some nourishment and had a short sleep.

4 p.m.—Sir John is considerably easier. The nurse has just turned him in bed and given him some more nourishment.

5 p.m.—The Premier is resting very quietly and is somewhat easier.

6. p.m.—The Premier has dozed comfortably all day, excepting during the intervals of changing his position and administering nourishment. The change of temperature since yesterday has appeared agreeable to him, and he has not been exhausted by such free action of the skin, which undoubtedly tended to weaken him. (Signed)

R. W. POWELL, M.D.

Freedom Not Desired.

OTTAWA, May 28.—The Northwest members and senator, and delegates Brett and Betts, met Sir John Thompson and Dewdney to-day. The most popular representation to the Ministers were that the Territories should be divided into the divisions, governed by a legislative council, but the adoption of responsible government at the present time was opposed. There is no doubt that the Government is opposed to granting responsible Government.

Senators Allen, Miller and Botsford, all ex-speakers of the Senate, have been created privy councillors.

Mr. Tarte has called for the production of all papers in connection with the Esquimalt dock construction. There is going to be a big time before Tarte gets through with McGreevy and Langevin.

Mr. Cameron will move for the papers in connection with the granting of Sea Bird Island, B.C., to settlers, while still an Indian reserve.

Mr. Davin is after the "cabinet of antiques" again. He moved last night that second homesteads be allowed settler resident in the territories between 1883 and 1886, and met the strong opposition of the Government. The debate was adjourned on a motion by the Government, which was carried by the narrow majority of 14. Mr. Davin, during the debate, referred to Dewdney as a green grocery statesman.

Starvation on St. Paul's Island.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 1.—Telegraphic dispatches from St. Paul's Island, a settlement half way between Cape Breton and Newfoundland, says every man, woman and child on that island, with the exception of two men, are prostrated with a disease resembling the grippe and sorely in need of assistance. The government has dispatched a tug with physicians and supplies.

Floating In a Canoe.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The body of Prentice Mulford, who for a number of years conducted the Overland Monthly, and recently was editor of the White Cross Library, a New York monthly magazine, was found floating in a canoe, in Sheepshead Bay Creek, near New York harbor, on Saturday. Mr. Mulford had started on a canoe voyage to Sag Harbor, his birthplace, and when found had been dead several days.

Johnstown In Mourning.

JOHNSTOWN, June 2.—The second anniversary of the Johnstown flood, was observed on Sunday. Hundreds spent the entire day in Grand View Cemetery, beside the graves of their dead, which had been strewn with flowers. As 4 o'clock approached, the fatal hour when, two years ago, the waves swept away the city, Mayor Rose announced the moment and hundreds of mourners engaged in silent prayer.

Beautiful Woman Suicides.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Mrs. Grace Potter, the beautiful wife of George I. Potter, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of Fort Worth, Tex., committed suicide this morning at the Lincoln Park Sanitarium, by throwing herself from a fourth story window. The unfortunate woman had been an invalid for several years.

Michael Davitt at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, June 2.—Michael Davitt and wife arrived to-day. Mr. Davitt declined any public demonstration in his honor, or to make speeches, or to be interviewed on the Irish affairs. He starts Thursday to visit the Crofters in Southern Manitoba, afterwards proceeding west and stopping at Calgary.

LONDON ADVICES.

The Behring Sea Matter—Portugal Drifting Towards Republicanism.

LONDON, June 2—A dispatch from Vancouver says that some parties interested in the Behring Sea fisheries are known to be getting ready to sail under the German or Oriental flags, in the event of a close time arrangement between Great Britain and the United States. The sealers had made ready for a grand harvest this season, and do not feel like being balked, whatever the two nations may agree upon. The same dispatch says that rumors are afloat concerning a party who have organized to raid the American Islands and carry off sealskins. In England the sentiment on the bill is divided, although it is certain to pass. A majority of both Tories and Liberals is in favor of it. The close time will seriously interfere with the skin dressing industry, an important one in London, and add considerably to the cost of sealskins the coming winter.

THE QUEEN AFFECTED.

A summary of yesterday's evidence in the baccarat case was telegraphed to the Queen at Balmoral in accordance with her orders. During the court session yesterday a telegram was handed the Prince of Wales supposed to be from his mother. The Queen is said to be more deeply affected by the affair than by any other event, even the death of Prince Leopold, and a leading Liberal connected with the trial expressed the apprehension that it might have an influence on her health, especially in the event of any incident reflecting on the Prince.

GERMANY INTERESTED.

A Berlin dispatch says that the most eager interest is displayed in that city about the baccarat trial. The upper classes are astonished at the spectacle of the future king and emperor appearing as a witness in a libel suit. The papers have to treat the case with the utmost discretion, owing to the jealousy with which the Kaiser guards the reputation of royalty in general and his relatives in particular, the Prince of Wales, being connected with the reigning house of Prussia, and a reflection on him in a Prussian newspaper would involve the editor in a charge of les majeste. Therefore only meagre details are published without editorial comment.

PORTUGAL DRIFTING TOWARD REPUBLICANISM.

A Madrid dispatch says that, according to current report, the revolutionary party of Portugal intend to make another effort for the overthrow of monarchy, and that the news of the encounter between the British and Portuguese in South Africa has greatly strengthened the movement. Among the people the feeling toward England is one of the utmost exasperation, which is none the less bitter because they feel their inability to do England any serious harm. Appeals have been received for reinforcements, but the only message to Africa since the encounter has been one directing the Portuguese to remain within bounds, and not, under any circumstances, to fight with the English, as the Portuguese Government feels confident that England will repay any damage or trespass done.

DUELISTS ARE FOREIGNERS.

A German in London says that, contrary to the usual impression, the most active duelists in Bonne and other German universities are foreigners, especially English and Scotch.

ECCLESIASTICAL CIRCLES.

A Rome dispatch says that considerable surprise is exhibited there, in English and Irish ecclesiastical circles, at the failure of the Pope to appoint an Irish Cardinal. Two noblemen were sent as special envoys to notify Monsignor Rotelli at Paris, and Monsignor Gruscha at Vienna, of their elevation The unsettled condition of Irish politics is believed to be responsible for the delay in investing the dignity of Cardinal upon Bishop Walsh.

Tough Sausage.

MUNICH, June 2.—The sanitary authorities have been investigating the manufacture of leberwurst, many complaints of the sale of an inferior article having been made. The result of the inquiry is a report to the effect that in 140 pounds of sausages examined, only 3 pounds of liver meat was found. The remainder of the compound was made up of skin, feet, parings and similarly indigestible and unpalatable material. The makers and vendors of the adulterated food will be prosecuted.

Derbyshire Election.

LONDON, June 2.—Victor Cavendish, son of the late Lord Cavendish, was elected without opposition to succeed his father as a Union Liberal member of the House of Commons from the western division of Derbyshire. The late member, Lord Edward Cavendish, was also unopposed at the preceding election.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL.

SPEECHES AT THE GENERAL MEETING ON MONDAY.

The McKinley Bill, Baring Bros. Failure, and Too Much Business on Too Little Capital the Cause of the Falling Off in the Earnings.

MONTREAL, June 2.—The Bank of Montreal's general meeting took place yesterday. The annual statement, the appearance of which recently caused such a sensation in the financial world, was presented by Manager Clouston. The chief features of the meeting were the addresses by the president, Sir Donald Smith and E. S. Clouston. Sir Donald reviewing the work of the year, said that although the statement showed profits less than in former years, the directors felt assured that the earning power of the bank was such that no apprehension need be felt for the future. The earnings had been entirely satisfactory, and had it not been for exceptional losses, impossible to control, the directors would have been able to make an excellent showing. Referring to the effects of the McKinley act, the President said the outcome of business had not been good, but there were indications that Canada would find other markets and go on progressing. General Manager Clouston explained that the recent losses were due to a decline in the bank securities on account of Baring Bros. trouble. Dwelling on the business situation, he expressed the opinion that the commercial community was in no position to stand a succession of bad years. There were too many people in business without sufficient capital, and there was the greatest necessity for prudence. Business for some time had been conducted with little profit and the losses had been above the average.

THE BACCARAT SCANDAL.

The Prince of Wales and the Plaintiff on the Witness Stand.

LONDON, June 2.—At the conclusion of the testimony of Sir William Gordon-Cummings in the baccarat case to-day, the Prince of Wales was called to the witness box. He testified that at the time of the alleged cheating he saw nothing until Lord Coventry informed him that something wrong was suspected. In reply to a question by Sir Charles Russell, plaintiff admitted that he had instituted the libel proceedings because of the scandal becoming known, and because had he failed to do so his club, the United Service, would have taken the matter up. Sir Charles read two letters from General Williams to Sir William Gordon-Cummings, referring to the complaints made by plaintiff that a pledge of secrecy with regard to the matter at issue had been broken by Gen. Williams. These letters began with the term "Dear Bill." Witness in answer to questions by counsel, testified that when in January last he had applied to Col. Stracey, of the Scots Guards, to be retired on half pay, that that officer told him the fact of his having signed a document presented to him at Tranby Croft, by Lord Coventry, and Gen. Williams could not be overlooked. Thereupon the plaintiff stated the difficulty to Gen. Williams, who wrote him, "You are quite at liberty to tell Col. Stracey that you signed the document under pressure and promise of secrecy. "You never ceased to deny the charge." Plaintiff—Had never said, "Levett, could you say you were mistaken." Sir Charles Russell—"Col. Sir William Gordon-Cummings, you will have to be careful." Under fierce cross-examination plaintiff reluctantly admitted he had said something of the sort. With this admission, Sir William was allowed to leave the box. The Prince of Wales was then called and occupied the seat in the witness box vacated by the plaintiff. In reply to Sir Edward Clarke, chief counsel for the prosecution, the Prince testified that he had known plaintiff as Sir William Gordon-Cummings twenty years. Sir William had for ten years been his intimate friend and had visited him at Sandringham several times. Continuing his testimony, the Prince of Wales said his intimacy with the plaintiff had continued unimpaired up to September of last year, during a visit of himself and party to Tranby Croft to attend the autumn races at Doncaster. Witness had seen nothing to excite his suspicion in the conduct or bearing of the plaintiff. He had first been informed of the circulation of reports derogatory to the character of Sir William Cummings by Lord Coventry.

THE MODUS VIVENDI.

The Behring Sea Bill Not So Unsatisfactory as at First Expected.

LONDON, June 1.—In the House of commons, to-day, the Hon. W. H. Smith moved the second reading of the bill for a close season in the Behring Sea. He said that the Government was endeavoring to arrive at a friendly conclusion with a kindred power. No order-in-council would issue under the bill unless assurances were obtained that the conditions of the arbitration were satisfactory, and sealing would be prevented except as to the 7500 seals necessary for the natives. The arrangement appeared the best that could be obtained.

Sir James Ferguson said he believed the reply about to be addressed to the United States Government would bring them together. That harmony would soon be obtained.

The bill then passed its second reading.

In the Behring sea debate, Hon. W. H. Smith said the bill was the result of a desire on the part of all parties to make an amicable arrangement, which was certainly to be preferred to more barbarous methods of settling the difficulties. The delay in submitting the question to Parliament had been partly due to the illness of the Canadian Premier. Mr. Smith expressed his sorrow that so valuable a life seemed about to end. The consent of the Dominion to the bill was subject to conditions, one being that ships fitted out under the British flag for lawful fishing in Behring's sea should be compensated for any loss incurred during the period of prohibition, which would continue until 1892, within which time it was expected that the arbitrators would make an award. It was not proposed to issue the order unless Russia consented to entire prohibiture. There was every reason to hope for the co-operation of Canada in making the necessary regulations. He did not urge the House to accept the bill on the ground of absolute right and justice, but as a friendly act to a friendly power.

Sir Wm. Harcourt agreed that a serious misunderstanding between England and the United States would be a great calamity, and he expressed satisfaction at the course adopted. He also wished to associate himself with the language of the right hon gentleman regarding Sir John Macdonald.

Sir Stavely Hill said while approving of the arrangement, he thought it a mistake to suppose that the seals within Behring Sea were in danger of extermination. His information showed a likelihood of more seals this year than for a long period.

Mr. Chamberlain said that Mr. Smith had referred only to the assent of Russia to a close time. He understood that the German flag had also been seen in Behring Sea, and he hoped the government would ascertain the position of the maritime powers generally toward the question.

Sir Jas. Ferguson said the government had abundant evidence of the diminution of the seals in recent years, and it was now necessary to prevent the wholesale destruction of the seal. Arbitration concerned not only the rights of England, the United States and Canada, but also measures for the preservation of the seals. The matters to be referred to arbitration were still the subject of correspondence.

ATTACK ON CZAROWITCH.

PARTICULARS OF THE ATTEMPT TO KILL THE CROWN PRINCE.

The Elaborate and Extensive Preparations to Entertain His Imperial Highness—Consternation among Japanese Royalty —The Assailant Evidently Insane.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TOKYO, Japan, May 12.—A great sorrow has fallen upon Japan. The Crown Prince of Russia was cruelly wounded by one of its citizens yesterday afternoon. The circumstances are as follows: H.I.H. had arrived in a magnificent warship at Kagasaki, ten days ago. No doubt it is known to many of your readers that the Prince is making an extended tour throughout Eastern countries. He has already visited India, China, and some other lands. Japan was not backward in proffering the Czarowitch a very cordial invitation to visit her shores. It appears that some years ago Mr. Saigo, a distinguished Japanese Count, while residing in Russia a few months, received at the hands of the Czar, his court and citizens, great honor and kindness, and so Japan, true as steel to her natural instincts of politeness, was preparing, by way of reciprocating this kindness, to give H. I. H. a right royal welcome. From the Emperor, who had written the Prince a cordial letter of friendship, down to the lowest coolie on the street, all were busily engaged in acts of preparation. The merchants of Tokyo had themselves subscribed $100,000 towards the reception. Indeed, the whole country was greatly enthused. No event for many years claimed, it seemed, so much interest as this.

As I have already intimated, the Prince and his royal suite had arrived at Nagasaki, a seaport at the southern extremity of the island, and having been publicly received and royally banquetted by the people of the south, he proceeded to visit adjacent places of interest, being greatly pleased with what he saw and heard. Re-embarking, the party came to Kobie, and on Monday proceeded to visit Kyoto, the old capital of Japan, and the burial place of many of the famous Emperors and Shoguns. Remaining in Kyoto till Tuesday noon, the royal party was returning by train when it was decided to stop en route and pay a short visit to Lake Biwa, one of the many beautiful inland seas of this beautiful land. From the railway station to the lake the roads were of such a nature that the party decided to make the journey by Inirikisha. A line of procession was duly formed with H. I. H. leading the way, followed by his traveling companion, Prince George, of Greece. The road was vigilantly guarded by Japanese police, and every other precaution taken to secure the welfare of the distinguished visitors. They had not, however, proceeded more than a mile or so when, strange to say, one of the Japanese guards, as soon as the Crown Prince approached the place where he was stationed as a guard, drew his sword and struck the future King of the Russians a severe blow on the head. Fortunately, the savage sword thrust was deadened by coming in contact with the hat which the Prince wore, and so he escaped with a deep cut on the side of his head, which will not be at all serious. The incident, however, created widespread consternation. I happened to be present on the principal street of the capital (Tokyo) when the dispatches concerning the bloody deed began to pour in, and I don't think I ever witnessed such scenes of indignation. The whole city seemed moved to its very centre. The Emperor, himself, they say, was almost completely unnerved. He immediately called his cabinet, had resolutions of condolence passed, ordered two of his ministers by special train to Kyoto and the next morning at daybreak, he himself flew on the wings of steam to the side of the wounded Czarowitch. To day the whole nation has put on sack cloth and ashes. Our students here, at Aoyama, are so utterly filled with grief and shame that it has been impossible to do much teaching. The Japanese press is filled with lamentation and weeping. It is said, on good authority, that the bloody assassin is demented. If this be so, it certainly offers the only explanation of his crazy deed. It is difficult to explore the nature of his motive. At any rate his act has plunged a whole nation into great grief and it will be a long day before his fellow citizens will forget or forgive his dastardy conduct.

In the meanwhile the Prince is rapidly recovering and it is expected the Emperor will prevail upon him to continue his stay in their midst.

J. W. WADMAN.

Some fancy the charms of the lily-white maid,
Of etherial form and languishing eye,
Who faints in the sunshine and droops in the shade,
And is always "just ready to die."
But give me the girl of the sunshiny face,
The blood in whose veins courses healthy and free,
With the vigor of youth in her movements of grace,
Oh, that is the maiden for me!

She is the girl to "tie to" for life. The sickly, complaining woman may be an object of love and pity, but she ceases to be "a thing of beauty" worn down by female weakness and disorders, subject to hysteria and a martyr to bearing-down pains. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sure cure for these distressing complaints, and will transform the feeble, drooping sufferer into a healthy, happy, blooming woman. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Prophecy of Lieut. Totten, Who Figures Out That it will be Here Before the Year 1899.

First Lieut. C. A. L. Totten, Fourth artillery, United States Army, who is at present detailed as a military instructor in the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, believes that the end of the world is at hand and that Christ will reappear on earth before 1899. His version of "A time and times and the dividing of time" he laid before the Brooklyn Baptist Union on the 8th inst. He says: "Believers in the Bible who are also students of prophecy are unanimous that it is now the time of the end; that the current decade will see all things fulfilled. There are dozens of time prophecies in the Bible, and upon all of them the same momentous date comes out. The one I shall give you this evening I consider to be the most remarkable. Messianic prophecy in existence. It is startling in every aspect. It is an entirely new and original discovery. On the 25th of March I was engaged in revising matter having reference to the Jewish feast of Purim, its absolute date and its actual bearing upon certain ominous chronological events in our own near future. That same day a stranger wrote me an epistle from Chicago calling my attention to an odd chronological riddle contained in the book of Esdras, which we have been taught to consider apocryphal, but which has been regarded as canonical by many Jews, and which many of the early fathers recognized as inspired. The riddle he referred to will be found in the fourteenth chapter of the fourth book of Esdras, verses 10-12. It is as follows:

The world has lost its youth and the times begin to wax old. For the world is divided into twelve parts, and ten parts are gone already and half of a tenth part, and there remaineth that which is after the tenth part. Seven-sixteenths remain. The world was in its eleventh hour.

"Here, then, was a plain chronological nut, and a nut worth cracking. My correspondent was C. G. Dixon, of 152 La Salle street, Chicago, and his letter to me was actually written on the Jewish feast of Purim itself, for the 25th of last March was the first day of this feast in the current year, and the solution of the riddle is New Year's day of the thirteenth year of Ahasuerus (530 A.M., or 466 B.C.), the very year in which the lents commemmorated by the feast of Purim actually took place."

Lieut. Totten then proceeded to do some elaborate figuring before his audience, and showed mathematically that the end of the world was near. He concluded: "The chronology involved in this prophecy is of the most astounding character. It strikes the 'ends' of both 'worlds,' so as to speak, or, to use an artillery expression, it is a ricochet. From the momentous New year's day upon which Esdras received it, it moves straight to the mark, Dec. 25, 3996, a.m.; then bounding forward, it buries itself in another year just ahead of us. To continue the artillery illustration the trajectory of this cycle is so close above our heads at this very minute that we are almost in its dangerous space, and, I believe, will be there in another year. But let it be clearly understood that this calculation will afford no man any legitimate clue for predicting the day or hour or year of the impending second advent. But I also believe that it is much nearer than 1899."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Schooner Wrecked.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW.

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

This Townsite is situated on Semiahmoo Bay, and is the only deep water seaport between the International Bounday Line and Vancouver, B.C. It will probably be the Mainland starting-point of the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway. It is now the outlet for the finest agricultural district in British Columbia.

The C.P.R. has made a survey of a line from Vancouver direct to this point. The Royal City Planing Mills Company has built a substantial wharf here, and has established a lumber yard, which supplies the farmers of this district. A handsome Hotel has been erected and building is going on rapidly. Several influential and far-sighted orporations have acquired large tracts of land surrounding this Townsite.

SUITS TO ORDER

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

Since the formation of a union amongst the tailors in Victoria prices for clothing have advanced to such an extent that people are sending East for their suits. And we don't blame them, either, if they can save from $10 to $20 a suit. We pay union prices simply because we have to; not that we consider it right.

We were paying our men the same wages before union prices were enforced that we paid them ten years ago, when we received from ten to twenty per cent. more for our suits.

We have from ten to fifteen thousand dollars invested in tailoring, and we propose to turn it over at least twice a year, regardless of profits. To do this we will make suits cheaper than we did before we paid high prices for making up. Good Tweed and Serge Suits, $25.

Irish Tweeds, $27, $28, $30 and $32. If any other tailor in town will prove that these goods are not genuine Irish Tweeds we will donate a Thousand Dollars to any charitable institution that he may name.

Black worsted suits $40. You will get the same goods for $48 or $50 elsewhere. We intend to make a specialty of tweed suits for $30; regular price is $35 to $40. We have the store for our other business; it costs us nothing for the tailoring department; we have the stock; we have a first-class cutter, and we have capital enough to run it if we don't make a cent. So now is the time to get cheap suits to order.

We are going through the stock marking everything down. Don't take everything for granted. See our new schedule of prices.

THAT "STRANGE DOCTRINE."

Under the heading of a "Strange Doctrine," the Colonist assails the attitude of the TIMES, re the jurisdiction of Great Britain over her subjects in "no man's land," or in other words, on the high seas. It may be said that the TIMES put forth its "strange doctrine." not as something settled in its own mind, but as something for British colonials to consider and settle in their own minds. In other words, the TIMES put forth its "strange doctrine" with the view to provoking a discussion, willing to acknowledge defeat if it could be made to appear that its position was untenable, for the TIMES is just enough of a jingo to relish the idea of the British "drum beat" around the world. The TIMES had hoped, though, that should it position be assailed it would be, not from the Tory point of view, which was practically knocked in the head in 1812, but as a purely moral and legal question. The idea of once a British subject always and everywhere and under all circumstances a British subject, does not receive the sanction of Englishmen nowadays, who are abreast of the times. But before proceeding to urge our point we must first observe that the Colonist with true Tory obtuseness has failed to apprehend the idea sought to be conveyed. It is admitted that the individual on board a ship flying the British flag, that ship engaged in a business recognized by British and international law, is amenable to British and international law. The powers of a ship captain are prescribed by law, British and international; but, in the event of a contingency arising that has not been contemplated by British and international law, what then? To whom and to what is that ship captain amenable? The perpetration of any "crime" not contemplated by law is not legally prosecutable. A law must first be made to fit the case, and then the perpetrator may be brought to justice. Now, in the matter of the prohibition of sealing, that has not been contemplated either by British or international law, and more, a law prohibiting sealing on the high seas, which are the property of the world, must, to be legal, have the sanction of the world. But, the question is not of existing laws but of British jurisdiction over British subjects on the high seas as to matters arising outside of existing laws. It has been shown that a crime not provided for by law is non-prosecutable; it has been shown that legislation affecting the high seas, to be legal, must have the sanction of the nations; the question now arises, may England legislate as to localities not her own as touching her own subjects? The Tory doctrine is that she can. The spirited Englishman, on board of his own ship on the high seas, engaged in a business lying outside the pale of the law of nations, and in its nature not inimical to the welfare of humanity in general, will question this prerogative. And that, in fact, the British Government realize that interference with the operations of a subject on the high seas, these operations not illegal according to any known law, is borne out by the language of the Hon. Mr. SMITH, who pointed out that the bill now before Parliament provided for the compensation of any loss incurred during the prohibition, which would continue until 1892. He further said that he did not urge the House to accept the bill on "the ground of absolute right and justice." This language plainly indicates that British public men are dubious of the legality of a law which circumscribes the actions of British subjects in "no man's land." The clause in the bill compensating the sealers for losses incurred during the modus vivendi is an acknowledgment of its illegality. In other words it is a recognition of the principle that Great Britain may not interfere with the operations of a British subject in "no man's land," these operations lying outside the domain of international law, and not out of harmony with the general interests of civilization. England is not in the habit of compensating people who suffer from her legal acts. The compensating clause in the pending bill is a left-handed acknowledgment of its illegality.

SALARY REDUCTIONS.

It has been decided by the directors of the Grand Trunk to cut down salaries of employees from Sir HENRY TYLER down. Salaries under $750 will be reduced 5 per cent., and all above 10 per cent. This is considerate, but the reduction of 5 per cent. on salaries from $750 downwards will be more severely felt than the reduction of 10 per cent. on the higher salaries. Five per cent. off a salary of $750 (none too large) means pinching somewhere, whereas 10 per cent. off a salary of a $1000 a year, while of course considerable, still leaves a comfortable balance. There are thousands of people who manage to live for less than $750 per annum, but that figure is the lowest that men with families will consent to live upon and refrain from reading BELLAMY. If capital, and especially railways, which are not just now in good odor with the public, would prevent men listening to the isms of the day, they will not ask their low-salaried employees, already pinched, to undertake to live any cheaper. The minimum at which a person can decently maintain himself is well known. It is neither human nor prudent to ask a man to maintain himself at a lower figure.

A CANADIAN PEER.

The telegraph informed an admiring world the other day that Sir GEORGE STEPHEN had been elevated to the peerage. Mr. STEPHEN is a well known Montreal merchant, whose great business ability, with the assistance of a fortunate combination of circumstances, has been the means of acquiring for him great wealth, and—from his position as head of the Canadian Pacific Railway—great influence, in both Canada and Great Britain. The "dignity," or "honor," it was said, was thus for the first time conferred upon a Canadian. It is not surprising, all things considered, that Mr. GEORGE STEPHEN—who as a common "Sir" had obtained a foretaste of the advantages, politically and socially, that follow the "making of a belted knight"—should aspire to the more distinguished position. Having taken the first false step, the Canadianized Scotchman, who was supposed at one time to hold broad and liberal sympathies, if not democratic views, was not proof against the blandishments of the "circle" in which he has recently been moving. In becoming a peer Mr. STEPHEN has only proved that there is a weak side to his character, while his exaltation once more emphasizes the poet's declaration that "the rank is but the guinea stamp."

Peers do not flourish well on Canadian soil. They are exotics, whose propagation will be attended with grave difficulties. Our Lord STEPHEN has a residence in Scotland and one in England, and very likely, although he owes his social and political preferment to a business advancement which he might never have secured in any other country save Canada, he will be known as a Scotch or English peer, and he will take his seat in the House of Lords, and be forgotten. We believe that Mr. R. B. ANGUS, whose position and attainments were not inferior to those of Mr. STEPHEN, declined a knighthood. Mr. ANGUS is a Liberal, who fully understands that the attempt to establish an aristocracy of title on this continent will utterly fail. In declining a knighthood Mr. ANGUS evinced more courage and certainly more common sense than has his old colleague in accepting the doubtful honor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The editor of the Colonist says that the editor of the Vancouver World is an idiot. The term is applied inferentially, it is true, but it is none the less direct and pointed. We would remind our local contemporary that it once was an accepted doctrine in law that "the greater the truth the greater the libel," and we are not certain but that Sir MATTHEW B. BEGBIE who still lives in an atmosphere of 50 years ago, might construe a libel of this character after the ancient custom.

NANAIMO NEWS.

A Coal Cutting Machine—Mount Benson Road—Bishop Hills' Reception.

NANAIMO, June 2.—The work of sinking the shaft on Protection Island continues to progress with great satisfaction. On Saturday the contractors announced they had reached a depth of 170 feet, so that only 400 feet now remains to be completed. The large engine from the Hamilton Machine Works, Peterborough, Ontario, is on the ground ready to be put into position at almost any moment. This engine is capable of lifting 1000 tons of coal in eight hours. No. 1 level of the big shaft has penetrated about 150 yards under the Island, and will probably extend eventually about five miles out into the gulf, and under the excellent facilities which are employed by the New V. C. Co., in ventilating the mines it is possible that it may go much further. The new shaft is expected to be completed in November.

COAL CUTTERS.

It is the intention of the company to utilize coal cutters in this mine on account of it taking less powder to obtain the coal and also because much more work will be done by them. When a level is run to such a distance it is essential that as little powder be used as possible. The employment of a few of these machines will make no material decrease of the number of men at present employed, but it will be the means of largely increasing the output at about the same cost as the company are now put to. The coal from this pit is claimed, in San Francisco, to be the best coal that has been found on the Pacific Coast.

THE MOUNT BENSON ROAD.

A great disappointment has been felt at Nanaimo because no appropriation has been made for the completion of the Mount Benson road. Probably the appropriation for the district work generally may be drawn upon for the completion of this work, if its importance can be made known to the department of works. It is felt the citizens must look to the district members to have this matter properly presented. A carriage drive from highwater mark to 3550 feet elevation is unique, and it is not only impossible to to find a more lovely view from such an elevation in the Province, but on the Pacific coast. To show how much importance this matter is to the citizens, it may be mentioned that a large sum of money was subscribed by them towards the expense of making this road. The scene from a height of 1500 feet (where the road has been suspended) is superb, and would repay anyone to make the ascent. The work so far does credit to the Government agent (Mr. Bray), who has surmounted many difficulties that were in the way in opening up the road, and the work has so well been carried out that the water does not lodge in pools on the road, but flows away splendidly, and since its construction has in no way injured it.

RECEPTION TO BISHOP HILL.

The reception to the Bishop of Columbia at St. Paul's Institute last evening was without exception the most interesting event that has yet transpired since the opening of the building. A large number of the citizens put in an appearance in token of the esteem in which the eminent divine is held. A very interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music was gone through, and the constant applause showed how much it was appreciated. During the evening refreshments consisting of tea, cake, etc., were dispensed by the kind hands of the young ladies, which was freely partaken of and enjoyed. A collection was taken up in behalf of the Institute funds and the sum of $35 was realized which will be used for the purpose of paying off the debt on the piano and billiard table. Everybody who attended last evening claim they spent a most happy time.

NANAIMO ASSIZES.

The Nanaimo summer assize opened this morning, Judge Crease presiding. There are six cases to be tried, viz:

Reg. vs. W. Paisley—Three indictments for indecent assault on children.

Reg. vs. J. Paisley—Two indictments for a similar offence

Reg. vs. Thos. Wilson—Forgery.

Reg. vs. Ah Sing—Larceny.

Reg. vs. Alfred Alderman—Indecent assault.

Reg. vs. R. Slate—Assault.

CUSTOMS RETURNS.

The customs returns for the month of May were as follows:

Duty	$5,076 68

Total	$5,675 87

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

It has been definitely decided to put the electric haulage system in No. 1 shaft of the New V. C. Co.'s colleries at an early date. The contract has been satisfactorily settled.

A son of Mr. J. Brightman had his hands severely hurt by the explosion of a gun cap which he set off by crushing it with a rock.

Devoted to Victoria.

Mr. Paul Kemble, editor-in-chief of the North Western Review, an illustrated monthly magazine, published in Seattle, is in the city arranging for a special number of that periodical, to be devoted exclusively to Victoria and suburbs. This special work will be issued in July, and will embrace a historical sketch of British Columbia, a description of the city, embodying its government, educational advantages, its stable growth and future possibilities, besides personal mention of the leading commercial and business houses, manufactories, hotels and representative citizens. Two of the principal members of its staff have been here for over a week collecting data and information, which has been willingly furnished by the Government and municipal officers, and others, and as these men are both trained writers, it is safe to assert that their description of our city will be accurate and interesting, and from the high class of work already produced by this magazine, we anticipate the completion of its special July Victoria number, being assured that it will do full justice to our queenly city.

The Government have received some promising reports from the explorers sent up to the northern part of the province and are immense track of farming land, it is said, has been discovered just back of Port Simpson.

Directors' Meeting.

There was very little done at the meeting of the directors of the Victoria Athletic Club last evening. Some small matters were disposed of, and it was decided to call a general meeting of the members for next Monday evening.

Promotions.

Harry Bishop, who, for years past has been purser in the C.P.N. Co.'s service, and latterly of the Princess Louise, has been promoted to the steamer Yosemite and W. Dalby, jr., who was freight clerk with Mr. Bishop, has been appointed purser of the Louise.

A Good Carrier.

The collier San Benita is due to-morrow from San Francisco for Comox or Nanaimo. This is her second trip up this way, but she has already proved herself to be one of the best coal carriers on the coast. She carries 5000 tons of coal and makes unusually quick time for a colliery.

From the North.

The steamer Boscowitz arrived down from the north last evening with a mixed cargo. She had on board a large quantity of box lumber, red cedar, furs and shingles. She reports that the canneries are just commencing work, and with good prospects of a first-class season. She reports good weather and a pleasant run down.

Lost and Found.

Mr. M. H. Avery of Puyallup, Wash. who is here on a visit, lost a valuable pocketbook on the Gorge road yesterday while driving, but luckily it fell into the hands of Mr. J. S. On the Way.

Three N.P.R. cars, which left Galt, Ont., on the 20th of May, contain the machinery for Brackman & Ker's mill, which is now being erected near the outer wharf. The owners of the mill have taken particular pains to get the best machinery possible, and they are putting up a building to correspond with it. The frame of the new building is now nearly ready.

Police Court.

The Police Court was somewhat busier this morning than has been usual for some time back. There was a mixed quartette of drunks and disorderly, who paid the orthodox fine of $5 each; one man for supplying liquor to Indians, fined $50 or in default three months imprisonment, and one case for defacing park property, the offender being let off with a fine of $2.50 and costs.

Cleanliness Next to Godliness.

The supreme thing in a house after a good kitchen and a good cook, is a good, well lighted bath-room, with a large, roomy bath. Porcelain baths are becoming very popular just now, and the solid handsome ones manufactured by Twyford in England, and imported only by Braden & Stamford, Fort street, are the best article. Quite a number have found their way into the fine new homes now being built.

An Extended Trip.

Mr. A. R. Johnson returned last evening from an extended trip to Australia, the Sandwich Islands, and other places in Oceanica. He left here just six months ago, and since that time has been doing nothing but enjoying himself with the exception of when he fed the fishes between San Francisco and Melbourne. He is accompanied by J. F. Wilshire, of San Francisco, who has also been on a trip to Australia.

Protestant Orphan's Home.

The ladies' committee thankfully acknowledge the following donations in May: Fruit, Mr. Doughty, a Friend, Mr. Rogers; clothing, Mrs. J. W. Williams, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. T. Tugwell; milk, daily, Mrs. D. Harris; meat, cakes, pies, fruit, candies and nuts, Hebrew Ladies' festival; eggs and butter, a Friend; cake, butter, meat and biscuits, a picnic party; ink, Mr. Dowler; biscuits, pies and cold meat, Mrs Davies, Victoria Gardens.

A Handsome Residence.

The new residence to be built by Mr. Joseph Sayward, on the corner of Belcher and Moss streets, will be one of the handsomest in the neighborhood. The plans, on view at architect A. M. Muir's office, are for an American house with the latest improvements, such as steam heating, hot and cold water, electric light and electric bells. There will be nine rooms, with kitchen, billiard-room, laundry, etc. There will also be a large basement. The residence will be a very pretty one, and will command a beautiful view of the Straits.

Hermann at the Victoria.

The large audience that filled the Victoria last evening to see Hermann, had their patience somewhat tried by the great delay in getting the performance started, it being after 9:30 before the curtain went up. The delay was caused by the late arrival of the steamer from the Sound, and was no fault of the managment. The entertainment was first class throughout, the most interesting of all being the act "Strobeika," and the committee who went on the stage to see that everything was all right, are still wondering how the change was made.

Their First Concert.

Mr. C. A. E. Harriss, the organist, and Master Frederick Williams, the boy soprano, will give their first concert in St. John's church this evening. The programme, as published last evening, bespeaks a splendid entertainment for those who attend.

Chinese Wedded.

Ah Lun, a Chinese girl hardly 16 years of age, was dressed in all the handsome garbs of Oriental fashion this morning, she having been wedded to Quong Chung, a resident of Seattle. The ceremony was preformed by Rev. M. L. Rugg and followed by Chinese festivities.

The P. S. & A. Steamers.

The Albion Iron Works Company have contracted to have the steamer City of Kingston repaired by Sunday night, which, if done, will be pretty quick work. The City of Seattle will arrive from the Sound this evening to take the Kingston's place. There not being room at the inner dock she will land and leave at the outer wharf.

Cannot Drop It.

The charge against the tug Pilot is still in the hands of the Marine Department at Washington, and as yet the owners have heard nothing of what is being done. The United States Government will not be allowed to drop this case like they did the one against the Alexander some years ago as Messrs. Dunsmuirs have decided to find out whether they are right or wrong.

Are Now Registering.

The druggists of the province and their clerks are now registering under the Pharmaceutical Act passed at the last session of the local House. They are given until the 10th of July to do so, but no doubt they will all have complied with the regulation before that time. All proprietors of drug stores at the time of the passing of the bill can register without passing an examination.

Sprague's Comedians.

Whitney's was filled last evening with an audience that almost went wild over the many ludicrous situations that are to be seen in this most laughable of musical farce comedies. Without exception it is as good a company as was ever seen here, every member being an artist of more than ordinary merit. Laughable situations seem to be the trade mark, and they follow each other in rapid succession. The auditors laugh because they cannot help it, and it is kept up until the finale. A great many good things might be said of "A Social Session." Let it suffice by saying it is worthy the liberal patronage it everywhere receives.—Detroit (Mich.) Free Press, May 20, 1890.

Watt's Protest.

At a meeting of the regatta committee the secretary was instructed to write to the Burrard Inlet Rowing Club, stating that the committee were of opinion that Watts' protest could not be properly considered.

1st. Because Watts made no protest before the race.

2nd. Parties who followed Watts race state that Watts was rowed down in the first mile.

3rd. Watts made a remark before the race, but made no formal protest.

4th. Watts did not row over the course, thus forfeiting any right to protest.

5th. Watts entered no protest before leaving his boat and the committee in view of the above facts hoped that the protest would be withdrawn.

A Warning to Others.

There is a certain class of people in this world whose bumps of destructiveness are so abnormally developed that they seem to take delight in cutting, marking, and defacing anything useful or ornamental, so long as it happens to be public property. One of this kidney, Charles Peterson, was quietly indulging in this sort of pastime yesterday afternoon at the park; when he was detected by Officer Carter, who took him in charge, and this morning laid information at the Police Court. The fact of Peterson being a stranger in the town and this being the first time a case of this kind has been in the Police Court, the magistrate only imposed a nominal fine of $2.50 and costs, but if any others are caught indulging in the pernicious and foolish habit of defacing things they will be more severely dealt with.

Coming to Victoria.

It is seldom that a professional man becomes so popular as to be unable to accept all the work that regularly flows into his office. Such, however, is the case with the well known dentist and oral surgeon, Dr. R. F. Verrinder, who finds it utterly impossible to attend to all those requiring his professional services, and in consequence has been corresponding with his brother, who has decided to give up his regular practice in San Francisco and remove to Victoria. Dr. A. E. Verrinder holds first class diplomas from the best dental and medical colleges, and will be quite an acquisition to this city. He is a specialist for artificial dentures, crown and bridge work and orthodontia, and will be given full charge of these departments in his brother's office, allowing Dr. R. F. Verrinder his whole time to devote to operative dentistry and oral surgery. The doctor, accompanied by his wife and two children, are expected in about ten days.

University of British Columbia.

The first regular meeting of convocation was called to order this morning at 11 o'clock in the Government Buildings, Chancellor Powell in the chair. There were present, Messrs. J. S. Yates, M.A.; W. J. Dowler, B.A.; J. N. Muir, B.A.; H. Goward, M.A.; Rev. M. C. Browne, Rev. A. Beanlands G. L. Milne, M.D.; W. Atkins, B.A.; Ven. Archdeacon Scriven; F. Scholefield, M.A.; J. M. O'Brien, B.A.; W. W. B. McInnes, B.A., and Dr. Watt. The principal business was the election of five senators. The meeting after a brief discussion of the University Act, adjourned till 3 p.m., to receive the report of the scrutineers. On re-assembling at 3 o'clock the acting registrar, J. M. O'Brien, announced the following as the result of the ballot for five Senators of the Convocation:

A SMALL BLAZE.

The Fire Boys Quickly on the Scene—Water in Two Minutes.

This morning a little before 9 o'clock, the fire alarm was sounded from box 25. The fire proved to be in a row of tenament houses owned by A. V. Stronich, and known as Stronichville. The firemen from both departments were there in double-quick time, and by their prompt action and good work, soon had, what promised to be a good blaze, completely under control. It is not known how the fire originated. De la Haye, who has these tenaments leased, was working around the place, and saw smoke issuing from one of the rooms. He immediately ran around to ascertain the cause, and found that part of the building all ablaze on the inside. It is supposed that the tenant, who was away at his work at the time the fire broke out, had left some fire in his stove, and the door open, and that some coals fell out on the floor. The tenants are chiefly Italian laborers. The two back rooms of the building will have to be rebuilt, and the roof newly shingled. Two hundred dollars will repair all damages to the building.

L. Lewis, the man living in the apartment where the fire originated, lost a number of valuable books, some of which were over 100 years old, and also everything else he had in the world. He is an Englishman, and over 76 years old, and this will be a very serious and discouraging blow to him. He is a steady, hard working man, and it is hoped that something will be done to help him.

Chief Engineer Deasy had to lay hose from distant hydrants, on account of the removal of a fire hydrant in front of the rice mills, which had been removed three weeks ago for repairs, and has never yet been returned to its place. The absence of this hydrant places the fire department at a great disadvantage, and also endangers valuable property in the neighborhood.

BEHRING SEA SEAL.

SECRETARY BLAINE'S LAST LETTER TO PAUNCEFOTE.

The Proposals that Led to an Agreement as to a Close Season—All Sealing to be Stopped for the Present Year, Pending Arbitration on the Matter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—The State Department to-day made public the recent correspondence on the Behring sea fishery question. The first communication is from Secretary Blaine to Sir Julian Pauncefote, and it reads as follows:

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 4, 1891.

SIR,—During the month of March last, a few days after the adjournment of Congress, acting upon the instructions of the President, I proposed to you that a modus vivendi be agreed upon touching the seal fisheries, pending the result of arbitration of the question at issue between the two Governments. The President's first proposal, which I sumitted to you, was that no Canadian sealers should come within a certain number of miles of the Pribyloff Islands. It was, however, the conclusion of the President, after reading Lord Salisbury's dispatch of February 21, that this modus vivendi might possibly provoke a conflict in the Behring's Sea, and to avoid that result, he instructed me to propose that sealing, both on land and sea, should be suspended by both nations during the progress of the arbitration, or during the season of 1891. On both occasions it was a conversational exchange of views. The first took place in my office at the State Department, and the second at my residence. The President was so desirous of a prompt response from Lord Salisbury to his second proposition, that I venture to suggest that you request an answer by cable, if reliable, as the President was anxious to receive an answer (which he trusted would be favorable) before he should set out on his tour of the Pacific States. He left Washington on the night of April 13th, without having heard a word from your Government. It was then a full month after he had instructed me to open negotiations on the question, and the only probable inference was that Lord Salisbury would not agree to the proposal. The silence of Lord Salisbury implied, as seemed not improbable, that he would not restrain the Canadian sealers from entering Behring Sea, and, as all intelligence from British Columbia showed that the sealers were getting ready to seal in large numbers, the President found that he could not with justice prevent the lessees from taking seals on the Prybyloff Islands. The President, therefore, instructed the Secretary of the Treasury, who has official charge of the subject, to issue to the lessees the privilege of killing on the islands the coming season the maximum number of sixty thousand seals, subject, however, to the absolute discretion and power of an agent appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, to limit the killing to as small a number as the condition of the herd might in his opinion demand.

On the 22nd of April, eight days after the President had left Washington, you notified me when I was absent from the capitol, that the Marquis of Salisbury was ready to agree that all sealing should be suspended pending the result of arbitration. On the 23rd of April I telegraphed Lord Salisbury's proposition to the President. He replies on April 25th, expressing great satisfaction with Lord Salisbury's message, but instructing me to inform you that "some seals must be killed by the natives for food;" that the lessees are bound under lease from the Government to feed and care for the natives, making it necessary to send a ship to Prybyloff Islands, each season, at their expense, and that for this service—a very expensive one—the lesees should find their compensation in taking a moderate number of seals under the the lease. The President expressed his belief that this allowance should be readily agreed to by Lord Salisbury, because the necessity is absolute. You will remember that when I communicated this proposition from the President to you, on the evening of April 27th, you did not agree with the President's suggestion. On the contrary, you expressed yourself as confident that Lord Salisbury would not accept it. That in your judgment the killing of seals must be cut off absolutely on the land and in the water, and that it could not be stopped on either unless stopped on both.

The narrative of facts which I have given (absolutely necessary for clearly understanding the position of the Government) brings me to a further statement which I am directed by the President to submit. The President refuses to believe that Lord Salisbury can possibly maintain the position you have taken when his lordship is placed in full possession of the facts which I shall now submit to you somewhat in detail.

When the privilege of killing seals on the Islands of St. George and St. Paul, in Behring Sea, was leased to the North American Company for a certain sum per skin, to be paid to the Government, other duties of an onerous and costly and responsible character were imposed upon the company.

Under their lease the company is obliged to "Furnish to the inhabitants of the Islands of St. George and St. Paul annually, such quantities or number of dried salmon, and such quantity of salt and such number of barrels for preserving their supply of meat, as the Secretary of the Treasury shall from time to time determine.

The company is further obliged to furnish to the inhabitants of these islands 80 tons of coal annually, and a sufficient number of comfortable dwellings in which said natives may reside, and shall keep such dwellings in proper repair. The company is further obliged "To provide and keep in repair such suitable houses as may be necessary, and shall establish and maintain during eight months of each year proper schools for the education of children on said islands, the same to be taught by competent teachers who shall be paid by the company a fair compensation, all to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury. The company is further obliged "to maintain a suitable house for religious worship, and will also provide a competent physician or physicians, and necessary and proper medicine and medical supplies." The company is still further obliged "to provide the necessaries of life, for widows and orphans, aged and infirm inhabitants of said islands who are unable to provide for themselves," and it is finally provided "that all the foregoing agreements shall be done and performed by the company free from all costs and charges to said native inhabitants of said islands, or to the United States, and it is still further the duty of the company to employ the native inhabitants of the said islands as they are fitted to perform, and to pay therefor a fair and just compensation, such as may be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury. And also the company agree to contribute as far as in its power all reasonable efforts to the comfort, health and education, and promote morals and civilization of said native inhabitants. In short, then, the means of living, facilities for education, care of health, the religious teaching, training of young and old in a community of over 300 persons are all imposed upon the company as its solemn duty by specific articles of the lease. I enclose you a copy of the census of 1890, giving every name of the 308 persons, old and young, male and female, who constitute the whole community of the Prybyloff Islands. Duties thus imposed upon the company must be discharged annually with punctuality and exactness. The comfort, possibly the safety, of all these human beings, peculiarly helpless when left to themselves, is dependent upon the company under the lease, and the lessees are paid therefor by the Government in the sealskins which the company receives for their service. If the company shall, as you say Lord Salisbury requests, be deprived of all privileges of taking seals, they certainly could not be compelled to minister to the wants of these 300 inhabitants for an entire year. If these islanders are to be left to the charity of the North Americans, under no more obligations to extend it than are other citizens of the United States, it evidently requires a considerable sum of money to furnish the supplies named in the lease—supplies which must be carried 4000 miles on a specially chartered steamer. If the lessees are not to be allowed payment in any way for the amount necessary to support these 300 people on the islands, then they will naturally decline to expend it. No appropriation has been made by Congress for the purpose, and the President cannot leave these worthy and innocent people to the hazard of starvation even to secure any form of agreement with Lord Salisbury touching seal life. Seal life may be valuable, but the first duty of the United States in the matter is to protect human life. In this exigency the President instructs me to propose to Lord Salisbury that he concede to the North American Co. the right to take a sufficient number of seals, and no more than sufficient, to recompense them for their outlay in taking care of the natives, and in the phrase of the President "all commercial killing of seals shall be prohibited, pending the results of the arbitration."

The secretary of the treasury has the right to fix the number necessary to the end desired. After full consideration, he has limited the number to 7,500, to be killed by the company to repay them for the outlay demanded for the support of the 300 people on the Pribyloff islands. He further directs that no females be killed, and that thus the productive capacity of the herd shall not be, to the slightest degree, impaired. This poing being fixed and agreed to, the proposed arrangement between the two countries should be as follows: The Government of the United States limits the number of seals to be killed on the islands, for the purpose just described, to 7500. The Government of the United States guarantees that no seals shall be killed in the open waters of Behring sea by any person or on any vessel under the American flag, or by American citizens sailing under any other flag. The Government of Great Britain guarantees that no seals shall be killed in the open waters of the Behring's sea by any person on any vessel sailing under the British flag, and that no British subject shall engage in killing seals for the time agreed upon on any vessels sailing under any other flag. These prohibitions shall continue until the first day of May, 1892, within which time the arbitrators shall render a final award or awards to both Governments. These several propositions are submitted for the consideration of Lord Salisbury. The President believes that they are calculated to produce a result at once fair and honorable to both Governments, and thus lead to the permanent adjustment of a controversy which has already been left too long at issue.

I have the honor to be, sir, with the highest consideration,

Your obedient servant,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

The Spring Medicine.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood purifying and appetite restoring which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefitted by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

Burdock Blood Bitters

BANISHES BAD BLOOD.

Bad Blood is responsible for all the Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Humors and Disfiguring Rashes that are so prevalent, especially in spring. There is a NATURAL FOE TO BAD BLOOD called Burdock Blood Bitters which always conquers, never fails and is recommended by thousands. It searches out and removes all impurities from the smallest pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. In Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Shingles, Tetter, etc., its effects are wonderful.

WHAT THEY SAY.

Two of my children had large sores on their bodies caused by poorness of the blood. They were completely cured by one bottle of B. B. B. MRS. J. PINEL, London East, Ont.

About a year ago I got a running abscess on my neck which made me very weak. B. B. B. cured it and I am strong again. MRS. GEO. LEDINGHAM, Montefiore, Man.

A Faithful Friend.

SIRS,—I have great faith in your Burdock Blood Bitters, and can recommend it for most anything. Two years ago I was troubled with an ulcer on my ankle; having used B. B. B. for bad blood I procured a bottle, and a box of Burdock Healing Ointment; after using three bottles and three boxes I was completely cured and can recommend it everywhere. Yours truly, MRS. WM. V. Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. In its preparation, its medicinal merit, and the wonderful cures it accomplishes Hood's Sarsaparilla is Peculiar to Itself. Thousands testify to its success, and the best advertising Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends. Every testimonial we publish, and every statement we make on behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla may be relied upon as strictly true in every respect.

If you need a good blood purifier or building up medicine, be sure to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Further information and statements of cures sent free to all who address us as below.
